

TOWN AND COUNTY.

WEDNESDAY, September 23, 1880.

TERMS OF THE NEWS AND HERALD.—Tri-weekly edition, four dollars per annum, in advance; weekly edition, two dollars and fifty cents per annum, in advance. Liberal discount to clubs of five and upwards.

RATES OF ADVERTISING.—One dollar per inch for the first insertion, and fifty cents for each subsequent insertion. These rates apply to all advertisements, of whatever nature, and are payable strictly in advance. Contracts for three, six or twelve months made on very liberal terms. Transient local notices, fifteen cents per line for the first insertion and seven and one-half cents per line for each subsequent insertion. Obituaries and notices of respect charged as advertisements. Simple announcements of marriages and deaths published free of charge, and solicited.

All communications, of whatsoever nature, should be addressed to the Winnsboro Publishing Company, Winnsboro, S. C.

New Advertisements.—Don't Run—Sugenheimer and Groeschel.

Next Week—P. Landecker & Bro. Cigars—F. W. Habenicht. Citation—J. R. Boyles. The Great Acre—Minnaugh. Sheriff's Sales—J. B. Davis. For Sale—J. G. Mobley. Robinson's Circus—John Robinson.

Messrs. I. N. Withers, J. E. McDonald and J. N. Center are the primary managers for the Winnsboro Club.

Let not the members of the club forget to pay their assessments. Money is needed for the expenses of the campaign.

The Presbytery of the Northern Presbyterian Church, in this part of the State, has been meeting in Winnsboro for the past few days.

Minnaugh buys the best clothing and sells them for the smallest profit.

There were 125 bales of cotton sold in Winnsboro on Thursday, at 10 1/2 to 10 3/4 cents. On Friday the sales were about the same, the price varying from 10 1/2 to 10 3/4. These are cash figures—not "flea prices."

Mr. F. W. Habenicht begs leave to inform his former customers that he has made ample arrangements for Fish and Oysters for the season. He guarantees the best of Fish and Oysters for the least money.

Misses Rosa Connor, Mamie Creight, Sallie Crawford, Jennie Boag and Susie Hall left Winnsboro on Tuesday for the Columbia Female College. We wish them a very pleasant and profitable year in this fine institution.

Mr. Joseph Groeschel is back with us again, after an absence of a few months. He has been spending the summer in Europe and just returned on Tuesday. We know he has had a splendid trip and hope he will tell us about it.

Minnaugh's unaltered shirt at 25 cents, beats the world. Every person should see them.

The Cornet Band has been reorganized and practices two or three evenings a week. The band did good work in the campaigns of 1876-78, and the members should be encouraged in their laudable endeavors to keep up so useful and pleasant an institution in the town.

MAJESTALS.—Major Woodward has appointed the following marshals for the meeting on Friday: Chief Marshal—W. R. Habb. Assistant Marshals—John Meador, E. B. Bagdale, S. C. Duke, G. Hoffman, R. J. McCarley, Moses H. Mobley.

The "Court House Brigade" will put up a huge banner across the street between the Court House and the jail some time soon. We hope it will be made and thrown to the breeze before the grand rally of the Democracy on the 24th inst. Hurrah for Hancock and Haggood and "Hodge!"

CORRECTION.—A cotton merchant in town writes: "In THE NEWS AND HERALD of the 11th inst., you quote cotton at 9 1/2. You were misinformed as to the market. There has not been a day this season that good cotton would not bring 10 1/2 to 10 3/4. Our books show that price paid nearly every day. To-day [Wednesday] some brought 10 1/4—most of it bringing 10 1/2 to 10 3/4."

We have received two communications, one anonymous, endorsing the views of "Straightout," and two others taking issue with him. The publication of these would evidently give rise to a controversy that would flood our columns, and do no good to the party. After mature reflection we deem it best not to publish them, unless occasion should arise to do so.

We would call the attention of all who have been elected to membership in the Democratic Club of the town to the fact that the time for signing rules governing the primaries no person is entitled to vote at the primary election whose name does not appear upon the roster of some one of the Democratic Clubs in the county. All who desire to sign the roll can do so by calling upon the secretary of the club.

TREMAINE'S SUN PICTURE TOUR.—Mr. Tremaine closed his Sun Picture Exhibition in this place on last Saturday evening, and a large and delighted audience witnessed the last trip on the route from "New York to Jerusalem." The Sun Pictures as exhibited by Mr. Tremaine, are new and original, and far outdo the old fashioned style of from New York to Jerusalem by these pictures is a grand and instructive sight, and well worth taking. Such shows as this can always expect to be well received in Winnsboro.

Minnaugh's glass and crockery were department is one of the most complete in Winnsboro.

COMMITTEES APPOINTED.—The following committees have been appointed from the Democratic Club of Winnsboro, to make arrangements for the 24th:

On Decorations—T. R. Robertson, T. W. Lauderdale, T. K. Elliott, J. P. McMaster, J. O. Boag, D. R. Fleming.

On Stand and Grounds—S. R. Fant, R. W. Phillips, R. M. Huey, G. A. White, T. H. Ketchin, B. Sugenhimer.

On Water—R. J. McCarley, J. R. Mounts, J. H. Cummings, A. Landecker, W. H. Kerr, G. B. Dunn.

DEMOCRATIC DAY.—Friday, the 24th instant, is the time for the county Democratic rally. It must be a success. Other counties are having the most imposing turn outs. Fairfield bore off a large portion of the honors in Columbia. She must excel herself in Winnsboro. Every Democrat should be in line, and every Democrat should also have a red shirt. A procession without red shirts is a tame affair. With these it is one of the most inspiring spectacles ever witnessed. A banner has been offered by the County Executive Committee for that club which parades the greatest number of red shirts in proportion to its membership. One rousing meeting now will show the radicals that Fairfield means business. It is well to remind them of this once in a while.

A SAD BEREAVEMENT.—We are pained to announce the death of little James B., son of Mr. and Mrs. James G. McCants, which took place on Friday morning. He had been in most excellent health up to Monday last, when he was attacked with that fearful disease diphtheria, and soon became ill beyond the hope of recovery. He was about five years old and had of late been in especially robust health. He was an unusually bright and interesting child, and was a favorite with everybody. His death is a severe bereavement to his parents—one that can be but partially softened by the knowledge that they have the hearty sympathy of all their many friends. The funeral services will be held at the Presbyterian church at nine o'clock this morning. The friends and acquaintances of the family are respectfully invited to attend.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.—Messrs. P. Landecker & Bro. are now getting in their fall stock of dry goods, clothing, etc., and are too busy to get up an advertisement telling of what they have to sell. Their next announcement, giving full particulars, will appear in a future issue of THE NEWS AND HERALD. In the meantime they invite their friends and customers to come and see them.

Messrs. Sugenhimer and Groeschel have now ready for inspection a portion of their fall supply. This stock was bought by Mr. Groeschel, on his way back from Europe, and it will be kept to contain everything usually found in a first-class furnishing house. The store has been recently refitted and remodeled, and it now presents a very handsome appearance.

Mr. F. W. Habenicht, of the Morning Star, has just received a new stock of cigars, among them the "Hancock and English" and the "Syndicate." Mr. H. knows himself what a good cigar is, and he generally manages to keep some on hand for his friends and patrons.

JOHN ROBINSON'S CIRCUS.—This well-known circus will exhibit at Winnsboro on the first of October. This circus is too well known to require much notice from us. Wherever it has exhibited the press has spoken in high terms of the performance. Among these notices we find the following in the Danville, Va., News:

"In an experience of many years of circus going in Danville we have never seen so large a crowd as that in attendance on John Robinson's Circus, and with a visiting acquaintance" nearly as long with the most celebrated hippodromes in the world, we have never seen a better and more entertaining show. With all the finest features of the Grecian and Roman arena, this exhibition combines also the attractions which is simply irresistible in a hasty notice of the performance such as we are obliged to write for our evening edition that we should make a critical review of the exhibition and therefore we cannot go into the details, but our word for it is this, namely, that as a whole this is the best, the most entertaining and the most refined show ever exhibited under canvas."

THE COURT.—The fall term of the Court of General Sessions and Common Pleas convened on last Monday morning with his Honor J. H. Hudson on the bench. There was very little business in the Court of Sessions, only two bills being given out to the grand jury, in both of which true bills were found. The first was the case of the State vs. Simon Massey, alias Sam Massey, indicted for forgery. The defendant pleaded guilty of forging an order for five dollars upon J. E. Johnston & Co., and was sentenced to the penitentiary at hard labor for the term of one year, and to pay a fine of one dollar. The next was the case of the State vs. Abram Owens, indicted for assault and battery with intent to kill. The defendant was represented by Mr. A. M. Mackey. The evidence was purely circumstantial, but of so strong a character that the jury found a verdict of guilty, after being out one hour.

penitentiary at hard labor for the term of three years. After sentencing the prisoners on Tuesday morning, Judge Hudson was occupied the rest of the day with such business as could be transacted at chambers. The juries were all discharged on Monday evening—the grand jury for the term, and the petit juries until next Monday at 10 a. m. This was made necessary by the fact that Judge Hudson would be engaged in hearing the case relative to the Chief Justiceship, in Columbia, to-day. Judge Hudson was especially commissioned by Governor Jeter to sit as one of the Associate Justices of the Supreme Court, for the trial of the cause, and hence most of the business in the Court of Common Pleas will have to remain over until next week when the Judge will return. Wednesday the Court of Common Pleas was opened and the day was consumed in granting orders, judgments by default and the hearing of a few of the equity cases. Judge Hudson left on the 5 o'clock train for Columbia.

Minnaugh treats every person with politeness and attention, whether visitor or buyer.

THE TEACHERS' ASSOCIATION.

Proceedings of the First Annual Meeting—Interesting Exercises—Election of Officers. [REPORTED FOR THE NEWS AND HERALD.]

The first annual meeting of the Teachers' Association of Fairfield County was held in Mount Zion Institute on the 16th instant, Vice-President B. F. Corley in the chair. After prayer by the Rev. Willard Richardson, the minutes of the last meeting were read and confirmed. The books were then opened for new members and the following named ladies were received and elected members of the Association: Miss Channie J. Coleman, Miss Tattie L. Edmunds.

Mr. W. S. Durham then delivered an address on Diagram Grammar, at the close of which Mr. R. Means Davis offered the following resolution:

Resolved, That the thanks of this Association are hereby tendered to Mr. W. S. Durham, for his able and practical efforts to show the benefits of Diagram Grammar.

Mr. Davis then, in a few appropriate remarks, recommended that all teachers make an effort to introduce Diagram Grammar into their respective schools.

The Rev. B. F. Corley then read an essay, having for its subject, "Utility the Prime Object of Education," after which the thanks of the Association were tendered to Mr. Corley in the following resolution:

Resolved, That the thanks of the Association are hereby tendered to the Rev. Mr. Corley for the able manner in which he handled the subject of his interesting essay.

Mr. Corley withdrew his notice in reference to making all school trustees members of this Association.

Mr. W. J. Keller offered the following resolution, which was unanimously adopted:

Resolved, That the thanks of this Association are hereby tendered to Mr. R. Means Davis for the use of his school-room and for other courtesies.

The Association then went into an election for officers for the ensuing year, with the following result:

President—H. C. Davis.

1st Vice-President—Rev. B. F. Corley.

2d Vice-President—W. S. Durham.

3d Vice-President—T. E. Bell.

Secretary—W. J. Keller.

Assistant Secretary—Mrs. Mary J. Ashford.

Treasurer—W. H. Trapp.

Executive Committee—Rev. Willard Richardson, Miss H. E. Thomas, S. W. Bookhart, C. A. Douglass, R. Means Davis.

There being no further business before the Association, it adjourned to meet again on the first full moon in November, at Winnsboro. It was further resolved that Winnsboro be the regular place of meeting.

SECRETARY.

Minnaugh's five cent counter is the great sensation at present. Hundreds of articles worth 20 and 25 cents.

THE OLDEN TIME.

Beaver Creek Tanners.—The First Settlers.—"Using" &c.

ROCK CREEK, August 31, 1880.—Being at leisure, I thought I would add something in regard to four or five Tanners who were amongst the first settlers on Beaver Creek that I saw when a boy, viz: Andrew Feaster, Sr., Adam Cooper, William and Isaiah Mobley and Matthew Hoosh, a Hessian. The first four were long beards and I think the last did also. These were called Danikars and were the only men seen with unshaven faces then, and forty years afterward. This denomination is called in history German Baptists. Andrew Feaster, Sr., was a native Switzerland, as I was informed by his great-grandson. I rode behind my mother about the year 1811 to old Daddie Feaster's, a distance of six miles, her purpose being to get him to cure one of her arms which was paralyzed. On riding up to the house gate my mother halloed, and the first object that attracted my notice was the big white beards, the next the old man's long white beard, the first that I had ever seen. We alighted and were invited into the house by the good old man. I kept my eyes on him until we were seated in a chair when a long hair rope attracted my attention, the first and last I ever saw. This was used by two negro men for the purpose of drawing up bags of flour into the loft. The next novelty was the biggest dish of beans I ever saw heaped on the biggest pewter dish. Dinner over, my mother was seated in a home made chair. Exposing her bare arms to view, the old man knelt at her side, rubbing her arm from the hand to the shoulder, several times blowing his breath in the mean time on it, and muttering unheard-of language to me all the time. This was called "using" for the purpose of curing maladies such as felons, wens, cancers, warts, paralysis, &c. Whether his "using" cured the arm or not, or the faith she reposed in old man's mystic art, or time, I know not, but it was after a while as well as before. It was on Andrew Feaster's plantation that Robert Wagner was built on the first settling of Beaver Creek, before our Revolutionary War, for the purpose of defence against the savage Indians, and used also for some purpose during that war. Near this fort the big rattlesnake which had swallowed a town was killed by one Phillips, which was mentioned by Mills in his statistics of South Carolina, and verified by Daniel R. Coleman, Esq., and Major Thomas Means, as told them by Phillips and other men of veracity.

I had forgotten to mention in a former article that Jacob Feaster, Jr., professed to cure the aforesaid maladies, the act having been conferred upon him by his grandfather, Andrew Feaster, as I knew many resorted to him for the cure of these ailments. His three sons, Andrew, John and Jacob, were respectable citizens, and farmers, raising their own stock of horses, mules, cattle, pigs and sheep, and no year failed to have a sale. The same was true of Robert Coleman, brother of Daniel R., and his sons. I had forgotten to make respectful mention of John F. Jacob, Henry Pool and Allen, sons of Capt. H. A. Coleman. Allen fell in our late war, a brave young soldier. The others died near Feasterville some years since. Near Lyles' Ford lived David Shelton Bolen and U. S. Wright, Daniel Mahrey, Esq., Thomas Burns, James Webb, R. G. Mayo, Clemons, Joseph McChesney, early settlers, and all died about 1820. Near the line of Chester county lived and died Edward Meador and his son Meredith, Coleman, Thomas, William and Stephen Crossbys and Berryman, U. S. Wright, Weathers (or Withers), a truly pious man; lower down Berryman and Bird Chapman, Bolen, and C. S. Wright, Albert Beam, all good and peaceful citizens.

P. S.—I had neglected in the proper place to make mention of William Kerr, brother of Daniel H., who lived and died at his brother's near Rock Hill. They both removed from Philadelphia here many years since. I have made honorable mention of Daniel H. in a former article. William was a high-toned gentleman, gentleman, and respected by all who knew him for his virtues, and was a pious member of Salem Church, and died not many years ago. Captain Andrew Feaster, son of Andrew Feaster, Sr., was killed by Henry Jacobs by mistake for Ezekiel Wooley, and Jacobs was tried and hung, as many of your readers recollect, in Winnsboro not many years ago for the commission of the deed. Jacobs killed Captain Andrew Feaster, I think before the war of 1812. By this it may be it was said that he paid the forfeit of his life forty years afterwards. Captain A. F. was a Free Mason, as I was told, and a man of high respectability. This is another proof of the old adage "Slender will out."

The planters about here are gathering their crops of cotton—the late crop suffering for want of rain, as well as late corn and other vegetation. The crop of corn will be quite a light one, and it is feared the yield of cotton will not realize former expectations in this vicinity.

A CARD.

In consideration of the fact that I entered the contest for Sheriff at a very late day, and that I consider my chances for election not so good as they would have been had I come before an unpledged public, and as I have business which I cannot afford to neglect without hope of compensation, I hereby withdraw my name from the list of candidates, returning sincere, heartfelt thanks to those of my friends who would have supported me had I continued in the field, and asking of the public that my withdrawal shall not be construed as in favor of any candidate, but solely as an independent, individual act, and alone in my own interest. S. W. YONGUE.

AN EXPLANATION.

Messrs. Editors: Inasmuch as some "kind friends" have seen fit to attribute the writing of the piece in your last issue, signed "Monticello," to Jno. W. Lyles, the candidate for the Legislature, and myself, a candidate for County Commissioner, I feel it a duty I owe to myself and friend in stating emphatically that neither Jno. W. Lyles nor myself claim the authorship of the article. Not that I consider the article or the subject beneath either of us, but, sirs, with a view of keeping ourselves in the proper position before the public; for such a rumor getting into circulation just prior to the primaries might do material harm to both of us. By publishing this you will lend a hand in correcting false charges, and assist those whom some might like to see defeated. H. M. ZEALY.

September 15, 1880.

A CARD.

Messrs. Editors:—An article appeared in your paper sometime ago signed "Straightout," nominating me for the Senate and speaking flatteringly of me generally. I am very grateful to this generous-hearted friend for his kindly remembrance of me, but I must ask the privilege of declining the nomination. Being informed that the people of the county desired an early nomination for the Senate, and that some were complaining because the place was being reserved for me, as was alleged, I determined at once that nothing favoring of personal ambition should intervene between me and my people, and announced my determination not to run for the office. Since this personal friend has entered the lists, who I think would not have done so had I expressed a desire for the office, and ordinary good faith requires that I should continue to do what I have always done—keep my word, I therefore distinctly announce that I am no candidate, and hope never to be again. Nor would I now serve in the Senate if every man in the county would vote for me. Selah!!! T. W. WOODWARD.

STATE OF SOUTH CAROLINA,

COUNTY OF FAIRFIELD.

By J. R. BOYLES, Esq., Probate Judge.

WHEREAS, James D. Fraser hath made suit to me to grant him letters of administration of the estate and effects of Malcolm D. Fraser, deceased. These are therefore to cite and admonish all and singular the kindred and creditors of the said Malcolm D. Fraser, deceased, that they be and appear before me, in the Court of Probate, to be held at Fairfield County, S. C., on the 2nd day of October next, after publication hereof, at 11 o'clock in the forenoon, to show cause, if any they have, why the said administration should not be granted. Given under my hand, this 16th day of October, Anno Domini 1880. J. R. BOYLES, J. P. F. C. oct 18-24
